

Bio:

This is the culmination of what happens when you put together 3 seasoned musicians from completely different musical backgrounds! You get a whole new genre of music! We have labeled it Hippy Punk, armed with acoustic guitars and an electronic drumset they can play anywhere bringing a interesting mix of high energy and chill vibe music that seem to blend together with comedic banter in between songs that will have you laughing out loud .

The story of how this happened is interesting as well a total occasion of fate if one could exist. Josh was singing in a punk band and Rick was doing solo acoustic gigs. Shawn was a full time DJ and running his recording studio as well as re launching his Independent record label. Then Josh's band split and he started writing music with Rick. They gigged together about a year when a mutual friend pointed them in the direction of the studio . So they began recording when Shawn asked if he could add some percussion tracks to the songs. They had no clue he was a drummer for 25 years ' and the rest is present!!!

They Have been in several newspapers and blogs and they say Nice things about them and how they are doing very well as a local band

“With the perfect blend of acoustic and hard-core music interweaving, it was impossible to turn away, from the moment they stepped on stage. Between the impeccable covers and catchy originals it was a night to remember”
